AMERICAN COLLEGE DUBLIN PRESENT

May 2nd – 4th 2019 at 8pm Smock Alley, Dublin

Musical Director: David WrayDirector & Choreographer: Mary MacDonaghProducer: Deirdre Masterson

Performed by Musical Theatre degree students of American College Dublin

Tickets available at Smock Alley: 01-6770014 and www.smockalley.com

American College Dublin are proud to create history in presenting the first musical theatre degree graduates on these emerald shores in a presentation of James Kirkwood and Nicolas Dante's book, "A Chorus Line". Conceived and originally directed and choreographed by Michael Bennet, music by Marvin Hamlisch and lyrics by Edward Kleban.

The characters portrayed in "A Chorus Line" are for the most part based on the lives and experiences of Broadway dancers. The story takes the audience on a heart rending, nail biting rollercoaster of emotions as a group of potential performers are put through a vigorous series of dance numbers, where the numbers are reduced to sixteen from whom the director, Zach, must make his final choice.

A celebration of those unsung heroes of the musical theatre world, this celebration of the triple threat is the perfect choice to showcase American College Dublin's young artists wishing to embark on the professional circuit.

"A Chorus Line" is running in Smock Alley, May 2nd, 3rd and 4th at 8pm under the baton of David Wray, directed and choreographed by Mary MacDonagh and produced by the course director Deirdre Masterson.

--

END OF RELEASE

__

For press queries, promotional media and further copy please contact Deirdre Masterson directly at: dmasterson@iamu.edu.